

KL-620 Basic Sensor Experimental Lab

The KL-620 Basic Sensor Experimental Lab is a comprehensive sensor / transducer control training system. Its modular and closed-loop control circuits allow implementation of open-ended, individual control loops used in industrial applications.

The KL-620 uses only industrial-standard sensors / transducers (0~10V, 4~20mA) with USB interface.